

Your DDT is not a verdict

It is a bundle of reports. This sample shows how the book helps an English-speaking buyer find what each report says, what it does not say, and what to ask next.

THE BOUNDARY

Independent educational aid. Not legal, surveying, engineering, energy or medical advice.

Use the actual signed reports and your notaire or qualified professional for decisions.

THE THREE-COLUMN HABIT

REPORT SAYS — copy the exact finding.

REPORT DOES NOT ESTABLISH — name the boundary.

ASK NEXT — turn uncertainty into a written question.

A representative DDT fragment

The wording below is original and synthetic. It resembles the structure a buyer may encounter but is not copied from a real dossier.

DIAGNOSTIC DE PERFORMANCE ENERGETIQUE

Estimated annual consumption: 312 kWh/m²/year

Energy class: E

Estimated annual energy cost: EUR 2,180–2,950

Recommendations: insulate roof space; review heating system

NOTICE

Estimates depend on standardized assumptions. This fragment does not establish the buyer's future bill or the cost of recommended work.

First, capture facts without improving them

A translation that sounds more certain than the source is dangerous. Preserve numbers, dates, scope and qualifiers.

REPORT SAYS

Class E. Estimate range EUR 2,180–2,950. Roof insulation and heating review recommended.

CHECK THE FRAME

Report date: _____ Valid through: _____

Area used in calculation: _____ Heating energy/source: _____

Was every habitable area included? YES / NO / UNCLEAR

Then identify what the report does not prove

A DPE is useful, but it is not a building survey, a renovation quotation or a guarantee of future consumption.

DOES NOT ESTABLISH

Roof structure condition

Actual insulation depth and continuity

Price of replacing the heating system

Your household's future energy bill

WHY THIS MATTERS

The book prevents one headline grade from silently answering questions the report was never designed to answer.

Convert gaps into buyer-owned questions

Each question names the source, the missing fact and the person best placed to answer.

TO THE SELLER / AGENT

Please provide invoices or specifications for roof insulation and heating work completed since the DPE date.

TO A QUALIFIED PROFESSIONAL

What inspection would establish roof condition and insulation continuity?

Which recommended work should be costed before commitment?

TO THE NOTAIRE

Please confirm which DDT documents and validity dates apply to this sale.

One finding can change another question

The paid value is not a glossary. It is the cross-check between reports, property facts and buyer questions.

EXAMPLE

DPE recommends heating replacement. Electricity report identifies anomalies.
Do not merge these into “the house needs rewiring.” Record two findings, two boundaries and the appropriate follow-up for each.

UNRESOLVED

Finding: _____
Missing evidence: _____
Question sent to: _____ Date: _____

Sort, do not diagnose

The reader leaves with a bounded record of what is known, what needs professional interpretation and what may affect timing or budget.

BEFORE COMMITMENT

Confirmed facts: _____
Material unknowns: _____
Documents still missing: _____

NEXT STATUS

RESOLVED / GET WRITTEN ANSWER / GET SPECIALIST INPUT / PAUSE

Does this earn its place beside free guidance?

The sample passes only if a buyer can use it with a real dossier faster and more safely than scattered translation, generic notes or a blank checklist.

HUMAN REVIEW

Is the report → boundary → question transformation immediately clear?

Would you trust this as an organizing aid without mistaking it for professional advice?

Is the writing space and hierarchy usable at normal print size?
